Insomnia Dance

for Flute and Piano

2010

ca. 6:00

Program Notes

Insomnia Dance tries to capture the tossing and turning of nights when vivid dreams and half-remembered stresses sneak into the semi-conscious mind. Two main ideas circle throughout the work: slow, ominous piano chords juxtaposed with long flute lines and fast, slightly off-balance rhythmic dance sections. The latter gradually takes over, and the music works into a frenzy before finally exhausting itself.

Performance Notes

- Pedaling is marked for the piano where necessary for the harmony. Otherwise, the pianist should use his/her discretion.
